JULIO CESAR ROSALES ) SAUCEDO, )
                                  Defendant. )

---

The United States moves for pretrial detention of Defendant, pursuant to 18
U.S.C. § 3142(e) and (f).

1. Eligibility of Case. This case is eligible for a detention order because the case involves:

Crime of violence (as defined in 18 U.S.C. § 3156(a)(4) which includes any felony under Chapter 109A, 110 and 117),

Maximum penalty of life imprisonment or death,

1        Drug offense with maximum penalty of 10 years or more,
2        Felony, with two prior convictions in above categories.
3        Felony that involves a minor victim or that involves the possession or 4       use of a firearm or destructive device (as those terms are defined in § 921), or any
5       other dangerous weapon, or involves a failure to register under 18 U.S.C. § 2250,
6        Serious risk Defendant will flee, or
7        Serious risk obstruction of justice.

8       2. Reason for Detention. The Court should detain Defendant because 9       there is no condition or combination of conditions which will reasonably assure:

10        Defendant's appearance as required, or
11        Safety of any other person and the community.
12       3. Rebuttable Presumption. The United States will invoke the rebuttable
13       presumption against Defendant under Section 3142(e). The presumption applies
14       because there is probable cause to believe Defendant committed:

15        Drug offense with maximum penalty of 10 years or more,
16        18 U.S.C. § 924(c) firearms offense, or
17        Kidnapping, sexual crimes, or child pornography offenses.

18       4. Time for Detention Hearing. The United States requests the Court
19       conduct the detention hearing:

1        At the first appearance, or
2        After a continuance of three days.

4       5. Other Matters.
